"The Three Most Beautiful Roses"

By Paul de Longpre

At the urgent solicitation of the Woman's Home Companion, Mr. Paul de Longpre, who is the greatest painter of flowers in the world, consented to make a painting of what he considered "The Three Most Beautiful Roses," and the painting is without doubt one of the masterpieces of this great artist. This magnificent picture is reproduced in all its original grandeur on the cover of the Woman's Home Companion for June. Although this cover is an accurate reproduction of a painting worth hundreds of dollars, yet the June number, which has this exquisite cover, may be obtained at any first-class news stand or direct from the publishers for the trivial sum of only ten cents.

Mr. Paul de Longpre is justly styled the "King of Flower Painters." He not only paints roses, but every flower that grows, and is the highest authority on flowers. His paintings are found in the most select homes. Some have sold for as much as seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500.00).

Artists, art critics and competent judges agree that the covers of the Woman's Home Companion far excel those of any other magazine. The Woman's Home Companion is a magazine which in beauty and excellence, art, stories, illustrations and fashions, etc., excels all other home and family magazines. The Woman's Home Companion is published by The Crowell Publishing Company, New York City, also Chicago, Ill., at One Dollar a year, and is the favorite magazine in nearly a half million homes, where it is read each and every issue by three million people.

ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

sending these diplomas to you, my mind goes back in retrospect to this same period in my life, when was presented to me a similar certificate. It is a sad, sweet time in life; sad, for in it we see the severance of friendship's ties formed in childhood, enduring through youth and through budding manhood and womanhood. We see the parting of our several ways, each to run his own course and in the manner of running to decide whether or not at the end the Master shall say— "Well done."

Sweet is the time, for is it not the time of victory when you are hailed as those who persevere? Have you not life before you and are you not better prepared to meet the problems of that life?

It is itself this Diploma is but the sheepskin still, the ribbon will fade even as the ribbon which ties my Diploma has faded. But as time passes you shall cherish it more and more and through all the varying changes of life you will regard it as an emblem of the school days of long ago.

There is a coincidence which draws me near to you for on my class badge is the motto—"Works not Words," and on yours "Mit tugen nicht Wor-ter." That is a good motto. And those are beautiful colors which wave over you to-night—the white symbolizes purity of thought and of deed, purity—moral, physical and intellectual.

The gold symbolizing the result of your twelve years at school, of your works not words, of the purity of thought and deed. Carry them with you through life.

The Wedding of the Roses by the orchestra followed after which Rev. George Matthews, pastor of the M. E. church of this place, delivered the class address. He spoke in part as follows:

Wisdom, the right application of knowledge.

The tendency (especially in youth) to imagine that "because I know so much therefore I am wise."

The fallacy of the idea:

It is repeatedly said, "Knowledge is power." This in the abstract is not true; and yet knowledge digested and assimilated certainly does give power to its possessor.

When Bacon said, "Knowledge is power," he evidently meant knowledge that has been in a sense transubstantiated.

Our graduates of this evening certainly know at the present a great deal more than they did a few years ago, a few years hence and they will know a great deal more than they do now; not merely more of the books they study but more of themselves, more of their relations to society, more of the obligations which arise out of these relations.

As they have been learning so will they continue to learn more and more of what it means to be an American citizen, more and more of what is expected of them as American citizens. This great truth will become more and more clear to them, viz.: the noblest attitude a man can sustain in relation to his fellow-men is that of a servant, and that the motto of each life should be not merely "Live and let Live," but "Live and help others to Live."

So as Wisdom is the right application of knowledge—the proper consideration for each of the young people before me would be—now as through the providential helps of the Perrysburg schools I have reached this stage in life's journey fairly prepared to enact my part in life's activities and responsibilities—what shall I do? What course shall I pursue so that while fairly enriching myself I can be of the greatest possible use to my fellow-creatures? How can I best use my mental and moral equipment?

If such reflections as these are carried into practice surely you will not have lived and learned in vain.

Let me remind you in closing, all of truly useful life and character may be comprehended under these three ideas—appropriation, distribution, worship or getting, giving and adoring. So, young people, appropriate all you can of that which enriches the soul and ennobles the life; give all you can of your life thus ennobled and enriched, for the benefit and blessing of those around you, and with it all now and forever—worship God.

Scott's Special was the closing musical number and the audience was dismissed after the benediction, which was pronounced by Rev. Tovey of the Evangelical church.

A Fearful Fate.

It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible torture of Piles. "I can truthfully say," writes Harry Colson of Masonville, Ia., "that for Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Protruding Piles, Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the best cure made." Also best for cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at Bowers & Comstock's, druggists.

A Finny Acrobat.

No two leaps of the tarpon are quite alike. As the tarpon comes out into day his jaws distend, his gills flap open, and the mullet bait flies out across the water for a hundred feet, while he retches at the hook, shaking his head angrily from side to side, like a horse that fights his bit. In midlight he will turn and cut into the stream with a head on dive that makes a perfect cleavage of the whitened water. His next emergence may be a back somersault and his third a long distance jump with no height to it, but a substantial gain in feet. With infinite spirit he will continue his play until absolutely worn out, when the spring and somersaulting lapse into a long, rolling stroke from side to side, showing the two foot dorsal filament, which waves and floats out behind, like some independent water creature.—Country Life in America.

Reunion of Prisoner and Guard.

A. T. Rice, formerly of Virginia, now of Iowa, an ex-Confederate soldier took dinner last Sunday with Robert Householder, of Scotch Ridge—the oldest Union soldier in Webster township. The remarkable part of this incident is that Rice stood guard over Robert at Libby prison and they became intimate friends because of the former's kindness to his prisoner. The meeting was a joyful one, and old times at Libby were rehearsed as only Reb and Yank under similar circumstances can rehearse them.—Sentinel.
